Retirement Plan Designations

For many individuals, qualified retirement plans such as Individual Retirement Accounts (IRAs), 401(k)s, 403(b)s, and Keoghs may represent a large percentage of their net worth. By naming Purusha on the change of beneficiary form for your retirement plan, you can designate Purusha to receive a portion of the funds left in the account at your passing. Not only is this simpler than drafting a codicil to your will, it also has tax advantages. If your qualified plan assets pass to someone other than your spouse at your death, they may be subject to both income and estate taxes. For some individuals, this can result in more than 70% of the account's value going to the government in taxes. When Purusha is designated as the beneficiary, no income or estate taxes are due on the funds given to Purusha.

Bank and Investment Account Designations

Another way to contribute to Purusha is to designate Purusha as a beneficiary in your regular bank or brokerage accounts.

Purusha Endowment Fund

The Purusha Endowment Fund was established to create a perpetual fund to support Purusha now and for generations to come. Income from the Endowment Fund supports Purusha and our activities to create enlightenment for individuals and greater coherence, peace, and harmony in the world. Contributions to the Fund will help ensure the goals of the Maharishi Purusha Program are achieved generation after generation. If you would like to contribute to the Fund, please contact us at secretary@purusha.org.

Additional Ways to Contribute:

Additional ways to contribute to Purusha include donating insurance beneficiary designations, outright gifts of life insurance, charitable gift annuities, charitable lead trust, precious metals, etc. For more detailed information, please visit our website: www.purusha.org/legacy-giving.html
